To whom it may concern,

As a highly satisfied homeowner I would like to recommend the services provided by Greg English. His thoroughness and attention to detail are second to none. He arrived at my house ahead of schedule. Surveyed the property for damage that might have occurred during one of our freak hailstorms. Presented his findings with pictures in a detailed report highlighting the location and severity of the damage.

My insurance company sent an adjuster to my home to also evaluate the damage. Mr. English went out of his way to return to my house to meet with the adjuster and discussed their findings. His repair estimates were comparable to the insurance adjusters, yet significantly lower than those provided by other contractors.

Due to water damage and poor construction techniques several sections of sheeting needed to be replaced. Mr. English came up with a solution to divert the water from around my chimney and prevent future problems. A competent crew quickly installed a new roof that will not only protect my investment, but also is astatically pleasing to look at.

Mr. English worked with my insurance agency and me in procuring funds for the repairs to my home. Since completion of the roof he has made several visits to ensure my satisfaction with the work performed. He has the right attitude and experience to make sure the job is done right. Again I could not recommend a better person.

Sincerely,

Bryan Sully
